

The half time show.....what a shame our families had to see such a degrading act. It was a completely lewd and lascivious act from the get go.

It was planned and a simple verbal excuse does not cut it. They both should be banded from any public shows in the future. That sort of stuff belongs in the sleazy strip joints. If Football fans want to see that sort of behavior....they know where to find it. Not on TV or at a huge sports event with small/young impresionable children in attendance. It was the most deplorable sight I have ever wittnessed on air. I know there are shows with x-rated behavior, but I do not watch them. It is stuff like that, including the act that had the singer grabbing his crotch bringing the morals of our children down. No wonder we have such a huge problem with kids having babies and kids killing kids and the list goes on. I surely hope something is done to make a example out of this deplorable behavior and show our young that sort of stuff is not to be tolerated.
